Freeze Threatens Crops In Florida

By The Associated Press

Crop warnings were in effect today for Florida as much of the state became the latest victim of the cold wave that has gripped much of the United States.

Temperatures in northern and central Florida tumbled two degrees an hour late Tuesday and many parts braced for an expected wave of below-freezing temperatures, the Weather Bureau said.

As the cold front moved southward, locally heavy thunderstorms hit some areas. Vero Beach, Fla., recorded 1.13 inches of rain within six hours and more than 1 inch fell in West Palm Beach, a winter playland.

Only the far reaches of southern Florida escaped the cold, which stretched from the Great Plains to the Atlantic with below and near-zero temperatures.

The mercury reached a high of 81 Tuesday off southeast Florida. An icy 34 below zero in northeastern Iowa was one of the lowest readings reported. The Weather Bureau said the bitter weather is expected to linger through the week.

Fair weather prevailed in most of the nation. Snow fell in the Appalachians, along the Great Lakes and the eastern slopes of the Rockies. Three to seven inches were predicted along Lake Ontario in upstate New York.

New Mexico had showers and some rain fell in the north Pacific Coast region.

California enjoyed fair and mild weather with some fog in northern sections, but the cold reached out to the islands of Hawaii.

Postal Savings Decline, Will Be Eliminated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General John A. Gronouski said today he will ask Congress to take the postmen out of the banking business. He is convinced it is a losing proposition after 54 years.

Since its peak year in 1947, Gronouski said in an interview, the number of depositors who save through their post offices has plunged from 4.2 million to just over 1 million.

Total deposits have dwindled from nearly $3.4 billion to $416 million. The average individual account has dropped from $808 to $387. The interest rate is 2 per cent, compared to the 3 or 4 per cent offered by commercial, federally insured banks.

"If I didn't think there were good reasons to eliminate the Postal Savings System," Gronouski said, "I'd feel obliged to ask Congress for a higher interest rate. I think 2 per cent is intolerably small, and we're doing people a disservice when they can go across the street to a bank and earn more."

But the postmaster general feels he has "two good reasons for eliminating the system: The decline in the use of the service and President Johnson's order to trim out the dead wood. And this fits the definition of dead wood — important in the past, but of little use today."

The Postal Savings System was born in 1911, when waves of immigrants were coming to the United States. They were accustomed to saving at their post offices in Europe — a practice that flourishes today in many countries.

Romney Budget Criticized On Political Side

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney's record $788.5 million general fund budget started the rocky legislative committee road today, seemingly drawing more criticism for its political implications than its dollar allotments.

State Controller Glenn Allen Jr., Romney's man behind the budget, was scheduled to explan the document today to the Senate Appropriations Committee.

No New Taxes

The committee, said chairman Garland Lane, D-Flint, will open its formal budgetary work next week. So, too, will the House Ways and Means Committee, indicated chairman Einar Erlandsen, D-Escanaba.

Land was among Democrats who chided Romney for what they said was presenting new or improved programs in his name while throwing the less politically welcome ball of tax reform to the legislature.

Some legislators said the spending program—$93 million higher than this year's appropriations — would require new taxes. Others said it would not.

But, when the explanations were done, it seemed all sides agreed the budget did not require new taxes this year or possibly next. But they indicated development of its programs would hike carryover costs enough to necessitate new revenue sources by 1967.

May Lose Votes

Democrats say that since Romney is proposing programs that eventually will require new funds he should initiate tax reform.

The governor, mindful of his tax reform failure in 1963, says he's willing to launch into the subject as soon as legislative leaders come tell him they're ready to talk.

This Alphonse - and - Gaston procedure in getting into a subject that could lose votes in 1966 seemingly is keeping Democrats from criticizing the budget.

One Democratic leader said if the Democrats significantly raise Romney's recommendations, then they're stuck with taking the initiative on tax reform—which in most eyes means an income tax.

Most Republicans say the budget is good, though GOP Sens. Emil Lockwood, St. Louis, and Thomas Schweigert, Petoskey, thought school aid should have climbed higher.

Officials Doubt Indonesia Can Build A-Bomb

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials said today they see no possibility of Indonesia producing an atomic bomb in the near future.

However, there is little doubt that with the proper kind of help Indonesia eventually will be able to detonate a rudimentary atomic device.

The director of Indonesia's army arsenal, Brig. Gen. Hartono, said Tuesday in Jakarta that about 200 scientists are working to make the Asian nation's first atom bomb. He promised a "surprise" at the Armed Forces Day celebration in October.

At the State Department, officials said they had no information to indicate Indonesia has the capacity to make an atom bomb or is engaged in serious atomic weapons research.

Other government sources said there is no evidence Indonesia is at a point where she can fabricate an atomic device for test very soon.

These sources did not elaborate. However, the presence or absence of large intricate metallurgical and chemical plants necessary for processing nuclear explosive material usually is taken as a sign of atomic capability or lack of it.

Indonesia has an atomic reactor in Banund, West Java, built with American help. Another reactor is being built with Soviet aid at Serpong, 44 miles southwest of Jakarta.

Sentence Given In Jew Killings

FRANKFURT, Germany (AV) — A German war crimes court today sentenced Adolf Eichmann's top aide, Hermann Krumey, to five years at hard labor for complicity in the murder of at least 300,000 Hungarian Jews.

His codefendant, former SS Capt. Otto Hunsche, was acquitted.

After an often stormy trial that lasted more than nine months, Krumey was found guilty of participating in the 1944 deportation of 437,000 Hungarian Jews to the Auschwitz concentration camp where the majority of them were gassed. He was acquitted of a supplementary charge of extortion.

Krumey, 60, an ex-SS lieutenant colonel and Eichmann's deputy, once offered to trade the Western allies one million Hungarian Jews in return for 10,000 trucks. His offer was rejected.

Hunsche, 54, an ex-Nazi officer and Gestapo agent, was liaison officer between Eichmann's special bureau "for the final solution of the Jewish question" and the Hungarian regime of Admiral Horthy.

The state prosecutor had asked for life in prison for both men. Western Germany has no death penalty.

Four Retained On State Jobs

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney has announced the reappointment of the state superintendent of private employment bureaus and three members of state licensing boards.

Special Education — Kalamazoo State Hospital power plant, $1.6 million; Michigan School for the Blind library, $164,000; Michigan School for the Blind heating facility, $100,000; Michigan School for the Blind elementary school, $493,000; Michigan School for the Deaf, health center, $319,000; Michigan Rehabilitation Institute classroom and shop building, $500,000.

Note — virtually all figures represent only partial cost of projects budeted over several years.

Anne Carey of Detroit was reappointed to the post of superintendent of private employment bureaus for a term ending Dec. 31, 1966. The post pays $7,500 a year.

Also reappointed were:

Harry Vivian of Larium Village and Carl Gregory of Detroit to the State Board of Examiners of Sanitariums for terms expiring Dec. 31, 1966.

Anthony Stamm of Kalamazoo to the State Board of Veterinary Examiners for a term ending Dec. 31, 1969.

Defeated Senator Keating Returns To Law Practice

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Former Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, defeated in his bid for reelection last November by Democrat Robert F. Kennedy, says he has "pretty much decided" to return to law practice.

Keating said Tuesday he was considering offers to join law firms in New York, Washington and Rochester, his home city, and expects to make a decision "before very long."

Jenkins Resigns As Air Colonel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter Jenkins, former White House aide and long-time friend of President Johnson, has resigned his comission as a colonel in the Air Force Reserve.

An Air Force spokesman said Tuesday the resignation was dated Jan. 28 and was accepted by the Air Force Monday.

Jenkins was asked to resign his White House post last fall after disclosure that he had been arrested twice on moral charges.

Asians Prefer To Solve Their Own Problems

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesian President Sukarno today urged the United States to withdraw from South Viet Nam. He added, if the South Vietnamese "want to be Communist, let them be so."

Sukarno, addressing worshipers gathered at the presidential palace mosque for prayers ending the Moslem fast month of Ramadan, said:

"We Asians were never given the opportunity to have freedom — to be free. That is why the best way is for the United States to get out of South Viet Nam and let Asians solve their problems the Asian way. The Asian way means consultations.

Meddling Causes Crisis

"The South Viet Nam crisis is the result of American intervention. This is what the Sukarno-Macapagal doctrine called for: Let Asians solve Asian problems."

Sukarno was referring to Philippine President Diosdado Macapagal, who has said Asians demand self responsibility for their own destiny.

Last October Macapagal told the National Press Club in Washington that free Asian nations should help South Viet Nam defend itself against Communist aggression.

He also said two months earlier, "It is heartening that the United States, under President Lyndon B. Johnson, has shown its determination to resist Communist aggression in our region."

Troops Number 23,000

The Communist Viet Cong already had launched its guerrilla war against South Viet Nam when the United States first sent military aid to the Saigon government. In early 1962 the number of U.S. troops in South Viet Nam was increased from a handful to 4,000. The number now is 23,000.

Sukarno said, referring to the United States, "You are those who make trouble. We want to be let alone. Never interfere in our own affairs. Only through this way can we achieve peace throughout the world."

The Indonesian president, who last month led his country out of the United Nations, said the Indonesian and Communist Chinese revolutions have similar goals: "to drive away imperialism from this world.

"The integration of the Indonesian and Chinese revolutions will bring prosperity in Asia and peace in the world," he declared.

ADVISERS ON WAY

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — McGeorge Bundy, top White House adviser of foreign policy, is due in Saigon Thursday for a fresh appraisal of the situation in South Viet Nam.

The nation is enjoying a week's respite from political upheavals and the war against Communist guerrillas during lunar New Year celebrations.

Bundy heads a team of advisers who are to report to President Johnson on developments here, particularly the ouster of the civilian government by Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh. They left Washington Tuesday night.

White House aides in Washington said Bundy is to consult with Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor because Johnson didn't want Taylor to leave Viet Nam while the political situation remained unstable.

Khanh ousted Premier Tran Van Huong two weeks ago while Taylor was out of the country. The United States has not formally recognized Khanh's regime.

Khanh was reported considering establishing a military-civilian council which would take the place of the High National Council dissolved by the military last December despite U.S. displeasure.

Taylor and Khanh have had sharp differences.

Rangers Readied For Moon Flights

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — U.S. scientists are boning up for the most intricate feat yet in space navigation — guiding two more Rangers to the moon while at the same time keeping track of Mars-bound Mariner 4.

All three will be on photographic missions requiring precise control as they near their targets, and to accomplish this duplicate facilities have been built at tracking stations around the world.

Ranger 8 is set for launching on a three-day journey Feb. 17. Ranger 9 is due to follow about 30 days later. Each is a replica of the 800-pound Ranger 7 which televised 4,316 historic pictures as it crashed into the moon last July 31.

Both flights are scheduled to take place while the 575-pound Mariner 4 is still millions of miles from Mars, sending back new data about radiation, magnetic fields and dust in interplanetary space.

Last midnight Mariner 4 was more than a third of the way along its curving 325-million-mile flight path. Although only 13,333,521 miles from earth on a straight line, it had traveled more than 112,239,618 miles since being launched Nov. 28.

If all goes well the spacecraft will snap 21 pictures as it streaks within 5,000 miles of Mars July 14. Scientists hope these may help determine whether life could exist on the mysterious red planet.

Scientists at Jet Propulsion Laboratory, which built and is tracking all three vehicles for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, believe they have scheduled the flights so there will be little conflict in communicating with them.

They will lose, however, up to 15 hours of radioed data from Mariner 4 during each of the Ranger flights.

An 85-foot-diameter, dish-shaped antenna at Johannesburg, South Africa, will be turned away from Mariner 4 and trained on the Rangers during their three-day trips.

Similar antennas are spaced equidistant around the world so that each will have a spacecraft in view at least eight hours a day.

Congress Sets Fast 1965 Pace

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress never moves with the speed of a cheetah or the agility of a gazelle. But it's making a pretty fair stab at it so far this year.

Item: The Senate with the new session of Congress just a month old has passed three major bills — the $1.09-billion Appalachia aid bill, an antipollution water program and a measure to implement the international coffee agreement.

Item: House committees have been burning up the track, comparatively speaking, to crank out important legislation on federal aid to education, medical care for the aged, the Appalachia bill and other major parts of President Johnson's "Great Society" program.

"One of the things responsible for the speed," House Democratic Leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma said in an interview, "is that the administration has done the best job in many years in getting the President's messages and bills up here to us."

Mother And Six Children Perish As Home Burns

MAGNOLIA, Miss. (AP) — A mother and her six children burned to death when fire today destroyed their home 15 miles east of here.

The father, Walter Smith, 34, discovered the fire when he arrived home after working the night shift in a factory at nearby McComb.

The children ranged in age from 10 years to 6 months.

Saginaw Votes For Income Tax

SAGINAW (AP) — A light turnout of voters approved a city income tax Tuesday, 9,818 to 7,707.

The proposal takes effect July 1. It imposes a one per cent tax on residents and one half per cent tax on nonresidents who work in Saginaw.

The referendum was coupled with a four-mill reduction in property taxes. Despite the millage cutback, city revenues are expected to increase $530,000. Most of this, officials said, would go toward capital improvements and pay raises for city police.

Near freezing temperatures held the voter turnout to 17,005 of the city's 40,000 registered voters.

Deal For U.S. Planes Causes British Crisis

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor government survived a move by the Conservatives to overthrow it Tuesday night, but created another crisis by announcing plans to buy American aircraft.

The Conservatives tried to bring down the government with a censure motion that said Wilson's first 100 days in office were filled with "hasty and ill-considered" decisions.

During the rowdy debate, Conservative leader Sir Alec Douglas-Home declared: "The honeymoon is over. If the government had a shred of political integrity they ought to resign."

During the session, Wilson announced Britain would scrap two partially developed military planes and buy similar aircraft from the United States. The future of the hard-pressed British aircraft industry is a touchy political issue.

The Laborites, which have a majority of only three in the House, defeated the censure motion by 17 votes. Nine liberals abstained and five Conservative seats are vacant. The count was 306-289.

The scrapped planes are the Jumpjet P1154, a vertical takeoff fighter capaole of supersonic speed, and the H.S. 681, a short takeoff military transport. The P1154 will be replaced by the American F4H Phantom II and the H.S. 681 by the Lockheed C130 Hercules.

Wilson said the Phantoms would have British engines and some British parts.

D&N Reports Growth Of 8%

A year of progress and growth was reported by the Detroit & Northern Savings and Loan Association during 1964, according to the institution's annual report.

D. W. Seaton, Dr. L. C. Aldrich and Dr. J. R. Van Pelt were reelected to the board of directors for a term of three years. Frank T. Hinks, a Detroit attorney, associated with D & N since 1942, was re-elected an honorary director.

Directors of the Association elected Donald W. Seaton, chairman of the board & president; Walter A. Johnson, vice chairman of the board; Kenneth D. Seaton, sr. vice president; Blanche B. MacLean, secretary-treasurer.

Other directors of the Association are Endicott R. Lovell, Arthur J. Dion, George W. Polley and Richard E. Hinks.

President Seaton said that asset growth of over $10,000,000 represented an 8% increase of total assets held one year ago, and that assets at the end of 1964 stood at $150,000,000. The growth reflected a combination of increases of mortgage loan and savings balances outstanding. He added that the flow of personal savings appears to have been stimulated "materially" by the reduction in federal income taxes, effective last Spring.

Net savings gains at D & N in 1964 totaled $16,000,000, bringing total savings held by the institution at year end to $140,000,000. The savings and loan institution also reported record annual dividend payments during 1964 totaling $5,100,000, based on a regular dividend rate of 4%, it was reported.

New mortgage loans made by the Association during 1964 amounted to $44,500,000 and the total mortgage loans outstanding at the end of the year climbed to $131,200,000.

"The rate of growth in savings and mortgages increased by 8% in the Upper Peninsula over the growth rate in 1963", Seaton said.

"Although business competition has been considerably more severe this past year, we are most pleased with the continued progress of our institution and its expanded services to the families of the several areas we serve in Michigan."

Pro And Con:

City Examines Urban Renewal

The controversy that surrounds some phases of Urban Renewal is not being overlooked by Escanaba's city administration, which is currently considering the feasibility of an Urban Renewal program here.

City Manager George Harvey has transmitted to the City Council published material relating to Urban Renewal, planning and downtown development.

"You will notice that I have included information from the March 1964 Readers Digest as well as the February 1965 Readers Digest which is not very favorable to Urban Renewal," he advised the City Council.

Noting that a book critical of Urban Renewal "The Federal Bulldozer" had been recently reviewed, the city manager obtained a copy and advised the Council that it would be made available to them.

"The Federal Bulldozer is another derogatory treatment of the Urban Renewal Program," Harvey told the Council. "I will continue to funnel information, both pro and con, to you."

Published materials supplied to the City Council by the manager are indeed "pro and con" and cover a wide range of sources.

An article in the Journal of Housing assails the book, "The Federal Bulldozer" and its author, an assistant professor of finance, Columbia University. This has been received by the Council.

Reprints of the articles in the Readers Digest have also gone to the City Council. Both are critical of Urban Renewal.

Articles on the subject from other sources covering small city downtown renewal, good uses downtown, traffic idea exchange, and other topics are going to the Council for its information.

When the City Council arrives at a time of decision in its schedule of consideration of Urban Renewal, its decision will be based on the most complete information it is possible to assemble. The controversy that surrounds pro and con of Urban Renewal is fully known to the Council, thanks to the informational material funneled to it by the city manager.

President Back Dancing Again

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson proved he is back in the swing of things — dancing at the White House again.

Others in his Cabinet are still ill, but Johnson showed no signs of his recent cold Tuesday night as he delivered a toast in champagne, talked to a newsman for a half hour and then danced until 1 a.m.

For critics who thought he might have slighted Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey by not including him in the official U.S. delegation to Sir Winston Churchill's funeral, Johnson offered this champagne salute: "A man who is valuable to our nation and invaluable to me."

Humphrey danced past midnight too.

Johnson entertained 176 guests at a state dinner honoring "three great offices and three great Americans" — the vice president, House Speaker John McCormack and Chief Justice Earl Warren.

In former days, it was traditional to give each of these officials a separate dinner, but Johnson declared the three-in-one event symbolized unity and close accord in the executive, legislative and judicial branches of government.

The honored guests seemed to approve.

It was "a friendly family gathering" in Justice Warren's words. The participants ranged from Harvard Law School Dean Erwin N. Griswold, to former baseball star Jackie Robinson.

Johnson paused in the long red-carpeted corridor to engage in a half-hour conversation with dinner guest Richard L. Wilson of the Minneapolis Star & Tribune. The president downed two glasses of champagne and brooked no interruptions as he did most of the talking.

Forest Service Marks 60 Years

This is the month of the 60th anniversary of the Forest Service and the 30th year the Forest Service has centered its Hiawatha National Forest administration in Escanaba.

The Forest Service has been working since 1905 to maintain and increase the productivity of forest lands everywhere in the United States.

As early as 1909 then President Theodore Roosevelt proclaimed the first National Forest in the Upper Peninsula. It was called the Marquette, and continued to hold that name until recently, when it was combined in name with the Hiawatha.

President Herbert Hoover proclaimed the Hiawatha National Forest in central U. P. in 1931 and the administration office was moved to Escanaba from Munising in February of 1935. Now the Hiawatha includes the former Marquette which is described as the eastern unit.

Sherwood Trotter of Escanaba is the Hiawatha National Forest supervisor.

"This 60th anniversary should not be regarded as the anniversary of the Forest Service alone," said Regional Forester George S. James, Milwaukee. "Without the active cooperation of state and local governments, and of industry, many of the accomplishments of the last sixty years would not have been realized.

"The year 1965 is a year in which to commemorate the combined work of the Forest Service, the conservation agencies of the states, such private agencies as Trees for Tomorrow, Inc., the many sportsmen's and conseravtion groups, women's organizations, and the forest work of industrial enterprises which have recognized the need for conservation of forest lands and resources.

The Forest Service operates on the concepts of multiple use management and sustained yields of renewable forest resources. In the North Central Region this flexibility has accommodated the recently terminated Accelerated Public Works program that gave employment in the Region's 13 National Forests to men in rural families.

They worked on needed projects which increased resource production, gave better protection to the resources, and made the National Forests more attractive to recreationists . . . . tasks which had been delayed because of a lack of manpower and financing.

One of the longest railroad trestles in the world is a haevy timber structure spanning 13 miles of the Great Salt Lake. The trestle, called one of the engineering wondows of the world when it was completed in 1904, still is in usable condition.

No Break Seen In Frigid Wave

The low in Escanaba was 11 below last night, the mercury will plunge to about the same temperature tonight, and there is no prospect as yet of a break in the cold wave that grips all of Michigan.

The Weather Bureau at Escanaba reported the high on Tuesday was 12 above, and the high today will probably be about 4 above.

Tonight the low will be about 10 degrees below zero.

The high on Thursday will go to about 15 above — but there is as yet no indication of a break in the frigid weather. The outlook for Friday is for partly cloudy and little change in temperatures.

Escanaba, Houghton, Jackson, Lansing, Marquette and Ypsilanti were among cities reporting below-zero readings today.

The Weather Bureau said today's highs in Lower Michigan would range from 6 to 15 degrees. Highs of from zero to 7 above were forecast for the Upper Peninsula.

Local thermometer readings of as much as 14 below were forecast for interior sections of the U. P. for tonight.

Council Renews Fight On Litter

The Michigan Tourist Council has taken official action to renew its long-time battle against litter throughout the state.

The Council today condemned the indiscriminate disposal of beverage containers, and again called for better posting and more active enforcement of state and local anti-litter laws and ordinances, and urged vigorous prosecution of all offenders.

The Council endorsed the use of returnable, deposit-required beverage containers and pledged wholehearted support for the objectives programs of Keep Micvhigan Beautiful, Inc., designated by Governor Romney as the official coordinating agency for anti-litter programs.

In a resolution the Council pointed out that litter of all types is not only unsightly but greatly detracts from Michigan's waters and scenic beauty. The resolution said in part:

"The indiscriminate disposal of metal, glass and plastic beverage containers . . . poses a hazard to the health and well-being of visitors and residents, most especially children."

Michigan anti-litter laws prohibit littering of all public and private property and water—including the ice above these waters in winter—all highways, beaches, parks, residential and farm land, and forests.

It also authorizes enactment and enforcement of local ordinaces, with fines up to $100 for control and elimination of litter. Violators may, at court direction, be ordered to gather all litter in a specific area.

The Michigan State Highway Department reports that it spends about $1,000 a day to pick up litter along state highways. This does not include vast sums spent by other agencies and private property owners to clean beaches, forests, and thousands of miles of county roads and city streets.

"We are being crowded out by our own untidyness," the Council added. "Litterbugs are destroying our beaches, roadsides and forests, and creating a dangerous health hazard.

"Michigan must put its best foot forward to enhance its position as one of the nation's leading travel-recreation areas. One good place to start is with elimination of litter."

The Council urged all interested presons and organizations to unite in the anti-litter movement. Additional information is available from Keep Michigan Beautiful, Inc., 215 South Washington Avenue, Lansing, Mich. 48933.

Economic Development

This week the U.S. Forest Service marks its 60th anniversary.

The agency has been one of the great growth factors in the Upper Peninsula. Its contribution still has not emerged in its full magnificence, and will not until all the forest lands which it is administering are fully productive and supporting largely mature stands of timber, but already its great contribution to the area's enrichment is impressively notable.

The Forest Service has been at work since 1905 to maintain and increase the productivity of forest lands everywhere in the United States. In the Upper Peninsula it is judged largely—because of intimacy—on the management of the Ottawa National Forest in the western U.P. and the Hiawatha National Forest in the eastern U.P.

They have been increasingly in our consciousness since the years of the great depression, because it coincided with a great change in forest land ownership in the Upper Peninsula. The old order of private holding of commercial forest lands was expiring, at least in its old proportions. Sawmill firms had largely cut off their big timber stands and were pulling down their mills.

There was some buying of timberlands in that period for private holding, but before the enactment of the 15-mill tax limitation in Michigan the tax rate was so exhorbitant that this was the way to economic suicide unless the land was held by a mining company or some other enterprise which could use its profits to maintain its timberland taxes. The lands could not earn the heavy taxes they bore.

This situation flushed huge acreages back into public ownership through reversion because of tax default. Some of this land went to the federal forests, some to the state forests. The state and federal government swapped many lands for blocking purposes and wound up—after some acquisitions by purchase—with their government forest boundaries of today.

The tax reverted forest lands had been cut or overcut, the poorest of them went first and the best last, and the state and federal governments picked up a big burden of forest rehabilitation on these denuded and burned-over lands. Their rehabilitation process is now well along and the excellence of the performance is something that makes the Forest Service worthy of public commendation.

It got some of our poorest and most abused woodlands and it is making them productive and valuable again. The Upper Peninsula would not be in the promising position it is in today, wood resource-wise, if it were not for the forestry programs of the Forest Service and the Conservation Department (which administers the state forests.)

In recent years the Forest Service (and the Conservation Department) have had their responsibilities for forest management greatly enlarged by the growth of forest recreation. This is a huge new value in the forest economically and it is more sensitive politically than the forest's wood production. A government forest which produced only wood might be surrendered by the public to private ownership for the tax benefits (less taxes for citizens to pay and more tax income for the government from industry) but the public would never surrender to private ownership a huge public forest playground resource.

The federal forests appear to be with us to stay, expanding their development of our natural resources, and it is up to the public to make increasing use of their growing potential. With the prospect that the forests may even be expanded, there should be continuing reappraisal of their relationship with local government and with the local economy.

Washington operates them to conform to national policy. This brings some local problems of maintaining school districts and communities with adequate health services, etc. Having done so much to restore the forest resource, the Forest Service should now examine carefully its relationship to the forest area.

SS N. American May Be Flotel

The Great Lakes cruise ship North American which has brought cruise groups to Escanaba many times, has been traded for 5,000 acres of Tennesee timberland and apparently will never moor here again.

Harold Caldwell of Chicago, the new owner, says he may make the old lake cruise steamer into a "flotel" moored at the Chicago waterfront, or at his waterfront property at the mouth of the Rio Grande River in Texas.

Richard N. Nichols, vice president of the Security Peoples Trust Co., of Erie, Pa., who sold the North American, said she was costing about $100 a day in expenses. The bank bid the ships in for $39,000 to protect a loan made to the previous unsuccessful operators, an Erie syndicate which tried to operate the North American in Lake Erie.

$23 Million Is C&NW Earnings

The Chicago & North Western Railway reports net income and special credits of $23,227,322 for the year 1964 as compared to $21,404,240 for 1963.

Net income before special credits was $8,123,116 in 1964 as compared to $8,524,275 in 1963. Special credits in 1964 totaled $15,104,206 as compared to $12,879,965 in 1963.

On the basis of 864,169 shares of common stock outstanding at Dec. 31, 1964, net income in 1964 aws $4.11 per share as compared to $4.58 in 1963. Net income and special credits were equal to $21.59 per share in 1964 as compared to $19.48 in 1963. Special credits per share are primarily gains from the sale of real estate and federal and state tax refunds and are not necessarily recurring.

Operating revenues in 1964 totaled $220,811,125 as compared to $218,922,579 in 1963. Ben W. Heineman, chairman said that the increase in revenues was due to an increase in freight revenues from $191,137,194 in 1963 to $193,594,600 in 1964, the highest in the history of the company. He also said the ratio of transportation expenses to total revenues (a generally accepted measure of operating efficiency) of 40.0% in 1964 was the best since 1945.

Heineman said the company's financial position improved significantly during 1964, that working capital at the end of 1964 was $33,114,631 as compared to $20,560,289 at the end of 1963 and $6,200,225 at the end of 1962.

Kresge Acquires Holly Stores Inc.

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors Corp. announced Monday its Delco Appliance and Delco Products Divisions would be consolidated, effective immediately. Both build electtric motors.

Vincent P. Blair, general manager of Delco Products, was named general manager of the consolidated division. Paul Rutherford, general manager of Delco Appliance, was retired.

DETROIT (AP)—S.S. Kresge Co. has announced acquisition of Holly Stores Inc., a New York-based retailer of ladies' and children's apparel. Holly stockholders received 238,165 shares of Kresge stock, Kresge President H. B. Cunningham said. He said Holly, which operates a chain of 75 specialty shops and 95 leased departments in department stores, will operate as a wholly owned Kresge subsidiary under its current management.

Farm Bureau Set To Back Program Of Tax Reforms

LANSING (AP)—Some 70,000 members of the Michigan Farm Bureau are "ready and willing to give a sympathetic ear" to state tax reform proposals, says its president, Elton Smith.

In a letter to Gov. George Romney and members of the legislature, Smith backed "an immediate program of tax reform."

The letter follows a Jan. 22 Farm Bureau Board of Directors' statement calling for reform of the state's "inequitable and antiquated tax structure.

"No longer can local government survive and flourish by depending on a single source of revenue — the property tax," they said.

"This is not something to be put off until 1966 or 1967," Smith said. "This is a year when the legislature can approach the subject without the pressure of budget deficits."

Although the state expects surplus in the neighborhood of $100 million by the end of the current fiscal year, both Romney and the Democrat-dominated legislature concede that fiscal reform — including a statewide income tax—is necessary.

Each side has said it is waiting for the other, however.

The delegates to the annual Farm Bureau meeting voted for a "statewide, broad-based rate tax on net income with provisions to lower taxes on real and personal property," Smith said.

Cars Kill 5970 Deer In 1964

LANSING (AP) — Michigan motorists killed at least 5,970 deer on the highways last year, 1,200 more than the high of the previous year, estimates the State Conservation Department.

The expensive slaughter cost motorists an estimated $1.2 million in vehicle repairs, it was estimated.

The average car running into a whitetail suffers damage costing about $200.

The venison, meanwhile, is wasted, the department said. The actual highway kill also does not take into account those deer which, after being struck, managed to hobble away into the woods and die later.

Heaviest kill was in the southern Lower Peninsula, where 2,824 deer were run over. This was an increase of some 40 per cent over the previous year.

Census Bureau Director Quits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard Scammon is quitting as director of the Census Bureau after nearly four years on the job.

White House press secretary George E. Reedy said Scammon had resigned to return to private research.

Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor named Deputy Director A. Ross Eckler of New York City as acting director.

Pattern For 1965

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The Republican party's broad policy conference at Mackinac island in 1943 may have some significant guidelines for GOP leaders who question the practicality of such a parley today.

Barry Goldwater wonders how it can fairly be decided who should attend a party-wide meeting. And he doubts anything it would agree upon would supersede the 1964 party platfrom as a general policy declaration.

Ray Bliss of Ohio, newly elected but not yet seated GOP national chairman, indicates he will have to be satisfied of the prospect of concrete accomplishment before he will commit himself to a "leadership" conference.

Meantime, the 17 Republican governors, led by Gov. Robert Smylie of Idaho, are on record as favoring a meeting. They can hardly be heartened by expressions which stress how difficult it is even to pick representative conferees.

★ ★ ★

The Mackinac conference in 1943 is instructive. It grew out of informal discussions among party leaders, led by the then national chairman, Harrison Spangler, over a five-month span. By June 1 of that year its formation was announced.

Its not too unwieldy membership of 50 included all 24 Republican governors, 12 U. S. House members, nine top party officials (six of them National Committee members), five U. S. senators.

GOP congressional leaders helped choose the senators and congressmen for service on what came to be called the Republican Postwar Advisory Council.

The task of selection appears from the record to have created no great stir. Those chosen reflected great diversity in outlook.

The council's make-up bears strong resemblance to the already established Dirksen-Ford Republican Co-ordinating Committee in 1965—with two notable exceptions.

The present group would include just five of the 17 GOP governors, while in 1943 all 24 were put on. This time there would be just one national committeeman, the national chairman, though after protests this arrangement may be modified.

As extras, the Co-ordinating Committee would include the five living Republican presidential nominees.

Obviously, without much of a wrench this group could be converted into a leadership conference on the Mackinac pattern. Only those who want local, county and more state representation would then be unhappy.

★ ★ ★

The Mackinac meeting is a useful study also for those politicians who think all party-wide affairs inevitably wind up pumping out a lot of inflated generalities signifying nothing.

After the Mackinac sessions in September, eight permanent committees dug in for nine months of hard work on a variety of exhaustive reports beamed directly at the 1944 GOP platform committee.

These reports did, in fact, form the foundation of the platform. The foreign policy recommendations, from a group headed by the late Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan were the highlight of an otherwise dull 1944 national convention at Chicago.

These proposals echoed a foreign policy declaration issued at the time of Mackinac, which put the party's weight behind the idea of international peace-keeping machinery (a United Nations).

History's verdict is that this declaration was of major importance in assuring overwhelming support for 1943 congressional resolutions calling for a postwar U. N. to help keep the peace.

The House vote was 360 to 29, the Senate tally 85 to 5 at a time when an isolationist-minded GOP had 38 senators and more than 200 representatives.

In the light of all that followed, the two September days at Mackinac island hardly seem to have bene a waste of time.

Ann Landers

Bald Artie Buys Golden Curls

Dear Ann Landers: How can I save my 48-year-old brother from making a darn fool out of himself?

Arti neever married. He has been like a second father to our children. They love to have him around, and so do we. He is witty, generous and a great human being. The problem is this: Artie has been bald for as long as I can remember. Well, last night he came over and we almost fell dead. Artie took off his hat and proudly displayed a head of golden curls.

The hair piece looks surprisingly genuine, but it's just not our Artie. I'm afraid he'll be the laughing stock of the town if he insists on wearing that thing.

Is this second childhood or what? He said he feels like a college kid again. We need an outsider to advise us. Should we tell him to put the hair piece in mothballs?—D.C.

Dear D.C.: It's Artie's head, and if he wants to put a rug on it, why should it bother you? It's how he feels that counts, and apparently he feels pretty good.

A baldy who suddenly shows up with golden curls had better have a lively sense of humor and if Artie has one he will do just fine.

Dear Ann Landers: We in this newspaper office understand and accept all but one of the Ten Commandments for separated parents.

How can a parent avoid exposing the children to a member of the opposite sex with whom he may have become emotionally involved?

Take this hypothetical situation: Here is a legally divorced mother, living with her children. Does she accept no dates? Or, if she accepts dates, does she make arrangements to meet her male friends in the corner bar because she is afraid of exposing her children to them?

If she succeeds in keeping all male friends hidden from her children what happens when she decides to marry? Does she suddenly bring the man home one night and say, "Here is your new stepfather."? Be reasonable, Ann, please.—NO NAME

Dear No Name: There is a vast difference between being separated and divorced. A divorced person, of coures is free to enjoy a social life which includes dates, if he (or she) wants them.

A separated person, however, is in quite a different position. He (or she) is still married, and married people should not become "emotionally involved" with members of the opposite sex. If such an involvement does occur it is best if the children are not aware of it.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 17-year-old girl who has a mother problem. She doesn't think any of the boys I like are good enough for me. This one is too short and that one lives in the wrong part of town.

For the fourth time in two months mother has arranged a date for me with the son of the nephew of customers who do business at the investment house where she works. Honestly, Ann, these fellows are jerky and I can't stand them.

I've told her how I feel but she says I'm too young to know my own mind. What burns me up is that she doesn't even ASK me first. She makes the date and I have to go, even if it means breaking a date I've already accepted. Is this right or wrong?—LIKE FOR SALE

Dear Like: A pushy mother often spoils the chances of a very nice guy by cramming him down a daughter's throat.

I hope your Mom sees this and realizes she is being unfair—to you and to the fellows she's trying to promote. You're deciding that they are creeps even before you see them — and no one can win against such odds.

The Doctor Says:

Roundup Of Answers

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

Q — What effect does ascorbic acid have on the kidneys? Do alcoholic beverages have an adverse effect on persons with kidney trouble? What does Methine do for the kidneys?

A — Ascorbic acid (vitamin C) has no special effect on the kidneys.

The only effect of alcohol on the kidneys is to increase the flow of urine. It will neither help nor aggravate a diseased kidney.

Methscopoliamine with methbarbital (Methine) is an antispasmodic. It has been used to relieve the severe colic caused by kidney stones, but without much success.

Q — What is pyelonephritis? Is it serious? What is the treatment?

A — Pyelonephritis is an inflammation of the pelvis of the kidneys.

No inflammatory disease of the kidneys is to be taken lightly.

If the cause is an active infection, antibiotics are given. They must be taken for at least 10 days because, if there is great improvement after four or five days and the treatment is stopped, a relapse is almost sure to occur.

If the condition has become chronic, urinary antiseptics are given.

Q — Is there any way except operation to remove kidney stones?

A — About 85 per cent of all kidney stones are passed into the bladder spontaneously. If, however, the stone is more than three-eights of an inch in diameter it cannot pass in this way.

The surgeon can sometimes dilate the ureter leading from the kidney to the bladder and thus ease the descent of the stone.

The drug, hemiacidrin, has been used with some success in dissolving kidney stones that are composed of calcium or magnesium phosphate or carbonate.

It will not dissolve those that are composed of urates or oxalates. Surgical removal is advised only when all other methods of removal have failed.

Q — As a result of a stroke a relative has incomplete emptying of his bladder. The doctor says this will ultimately cause uremic poisoning.

What are the symptoms of this? Does the victim go into a coma before death?

A — Uremia is characterized by a complete or partial shutdown of urine production by the kidneys.

The victim suffers from severe waterlogging of his tissues, nausea, vomiting, extreme weakness and eventually a deep coma. Unless the function of the kidneys can be restored promptly, death is inevitable.

GLADSTONE

Eaton Initiates Changeover Plan At Marble Plant

By DAVE ANDREWS

The new owners of Gladstone's Marble Electric Co. wasted little time Tuesday converting operations in Gladstone to Dynamatic Division of Eaton Manufacturing Co.

"Good afternoon, Dynamatic," a secretary enthused over the telephone. "May I help you?"

William A. Mattie of Cleveland, Ohio, group vice president in charge of all products manufactured by Eaton, prepared to fly to Gladstone.

And Edward H. Fredrick, assistant general manager of Eaton's Dynamatic Division at Kenosha, Wis., said a shipment of material and equipment to get the plant going again had already been unloaded.

Purchase of Marble Electric from Bell & Gossett Co., Morton Grove, Ill., division of International Telephone and Telegraph Co., was announced jointly in Cleveland by Mattie and in Gladstone by Fredrick.

Plan Expansion

The announcements said that the plant, which produces electric motors and now will do so as part of Eaton's nation-wide industrial complex, will remain in Gladstone and will continue operating under current management.

Both statements said expansion of the plant is planned.

"It is expected that within a reasonable period, employment at the Marble plant will be increased to around 60 people to take care of the anticipated increase in business," Mattie announced.

Fredrick said that if development and expansion of the plant goes as anticipated employment could triple within several years.

Under former management, the company employed about 25 persons during peak production periods.

Arrives Thursday

Mattie will arrive in Gladstone Thursday morning for an inspection of the facilities and an informal get-together with Gladstone's civic and governmental leaders at lunch at the Yacht Club. He is expected to bring with him other Eaton executives.

According to Fredrick, the Gladstone plant will operate and function in direct co-operation with Eaton's Dynamatic Division at Kenosha which is primarily concerned with manufacture of adjustable speed drive electric motors for industrial use.

Build Special Motors

Fredrick said most of the motors built require "special" adapting for each customer and that an engineering department would be installed at Gladstone to take care of these technical problems. He said many of Eaton's adjustable speed drive motors were used in the paper making and concrete industries to drive kilns, etc., where precise control of speed is needed.

Purchase of the Gladstone company gives Eaton 10 plants in Michigan. Others are located in Detroit, Saginaw, Marshall, Madison Heights, Kalamazoo, Vassar, Coldwater and Lawton.

Eaton has a total of more than 40 subdivisions and subsidiaries in the United States, England, Canada, Brazil, Argentina, Italy, West Germany and Mexico and has a national sales force to market its products. The company employs about 31,000 people.

Sales $555 Million

Eaton products are used in the manufacture of automobiles, trucks, tractors, airplanes, boats, farm machinery, machine tools and range from industrial fasteners to truck transmissions, air conditioners, springs, valves, marine engines, forgings, foundry products and heaters.

Sales of the 53-year-old company for 1964 were approximately $555 milion, an increase of 15 per cent over 1963. In addition, the company had sales of $48 million in 1964 from overseas operations.

'Hall Of Fame' Honors Marble

The naming of the late Webster L. Marble of Gladstone to the Sporting Goods Hall of Fame in Chicago brought recognition to a man who was an inventive outdoorsman, and to a community that reveres his memory.

Webster Marble's contribution to the safety, the comfort and convenience of the sportsman as an inventor and manufacturer was given recognition at the 36th annual convention of the National Sporting Goods Association in Chicago Monday.

As the founder of the Marble Arms Co., he brought to the industry his experience as a woodsman—backwoods "know-how" that came with his work as a timber cruiser out of Gladstone. The first pocket safety axe was brought out in 1893, constructed in a "tinker shop" in back of the family residence on Wisconsin Ave.

First named the Marble Safety Axe Co., there was the development and production of additional equipment and the establishment of the Marble Arms Co.

The list of products through the years brought the name "Marble" into the conversation of sportsmen and outdoorsmen around the world. There was a waterproof match case, pin-on compass, hunting knife, gunsights, gun cleaning equipment, and various auxiliary items.

The first products of the budding company were made by members of the Marble family in the early days, and among the original axe makers was William, a son of Webster. Starting in 1905 William became the firm's "traveling salesman" and visited dealers the length and breadth of North America.

Now in his 80's, William Marble maintains an alert and active interest in community and regional economic affairs and, like his father, enjoys as much time as he can spare in the health-giving out-of-doors.

Mothers' March Is Scheduled For Feb. 11

The annual March of Dimes campaign in Escanaba comes to a climax Thursday, Feb. 11, when dozens of Mother Marchers visit homes seeking contributions for the fight against birth defects.

Myron T. Austad, Mothers' March chairman, said that most of the volunteers would be out between 5 and 7 p. m. They will leave return envelopes for residents who are not at home when they call.

"Our Marching Mothers have a true personal stake in this campaign against birth defects" he said. "More than anyone else, they realize the tragedy that birth defects can bring into a home.

"They want to do something about preventing these conditions which cripple limbs and retard minds and disrupt what should be a happy family life," declared Mr. Austad.

The March of Dimes, through its scientific research program, has begun to make strides toward this goal of prevention. Studies are now under way on the causes of chromosome abnormalities such as occur in mongolism and the nature of certain inherited metabolic disorders which cause brain damage and mental retardation.

The March of Dimes is also pioneering in the care of birth defect victims by developing and perfecting new treatment techniques at its scores of university and hospital-connected centers around the country.

In addition to its program on birth defects, the March of Dimes also continues to aid polio victims and cooperates with the American Rheumatism Association to strengthen the national ataack on arthritis.

Monday, Feb. 8, at 1:30 p. m., area Captains will meet for luncheon in the Sherman Hotel. In addition to receiving kits to be used by the Marching Mothers, they will learn of the latest in research and education on birth defects, pioneered by the March of Dimes.

Budget Rises In Conservation

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney saluted the State Conservation Department as being "reorganized and more efficient" in recommending a $7,030,646 general fund budget for the department to the legislature.

This compared with a more than $9.24 million request by the department and a legislative appropriation of $5.99 million for the current fiscal year.

As a major item, Romney proposed $2 million in state matching funds to meet federal grants for the new land and water conservation program for state and local park development and for park improvements.

Recreation Major Item

"In recent years," Romney said in his budget message, "recreation has become an increasing responsibility of state government."

Last year, he noted, more than 13.9 million people visited the 64 state parks and recreation areas. In addition, thousands more used the 118 state forest campgrounds, 650 public access water sites and numerous hunting and fishing areas.

In spite of this, Romney said, many people were not served.

"Unless action is taken immediately," Romney said, the 'turn-away' rate for state park and recreational facilities can be expected to increase."

A 50 per cent increase is proposed in geologic mapping and iron ore investigation.

More Fishing Sites

Forestery inventory work and water resources investigation budgets also are stepped up.

Included in the budget is $100,000 for land acquisition by the fish division.

A new program in the fisheries division is the development of recreational lakes, mainly in the southern, heavily-populated areas of the state, for fishing and general recreational use.

The long-range program calls for the development of 50 such lakes.

Also provided for in the governor's budget are funds to furnish uniforms for department field personnel, take up the slack if the bounty payment system is discontinued and to put law enforcement officers in state-owned cars.

The department would receive $2,339,000 under the capital outlay program, including the $2 million for parks land acquisition and development and the $100,000 for land acquisition by the fish division.

Ironwood Globe Names G. Nelson Managing Editor

IRONWOOD — George H. Nelson, sports editor of the Ironwood Daily Globe since 1948, Monday was named managing editor of the newspaper by Edwin J. Johnson, editor and publisher.

Johnson has served as managing editor for more than 25 years until April, 1964, when he assumed his present position after the death of Linwood I. Noyes. The managing editor's post had been vacant since that time.

Nelson, a native of Marquette, is a graduate of Marquette high school and Northern Michigan University. He worked for the Marquette Mining Journal for two years after his discharge from service in 1946 before joining the Ironwood Daily Globe.

Michigan Pays 4.54 Per Cent Of U.S. Spending

LANSING (AP) — Michigan taxpayers would be required to pay out approximately $4.52 billion dollars in federal taxes as their share of the $99.7 billion spending program proposed by President Johnson, estimates the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce.

Harry Hall, chamber executive vice president, said the estimate is based on the chamber calculation that Michigan taxpayers bear 4.54 per cent of all federal taxes.

The state chamber report says Michigan's share of the proposed federal budget for the next fiscal year is 3.8 times the amount of taxes collected last year to finance all of Michigan's 1963-64 expenses and is 6.5 times the 1964-65 state general fund-general purpose budget appropriations.

Traffic court tickets have been issued by Escanaba police to William Slagstad, Cornell Rte. 1, following too closely; Laura Delisle, Munising, backing into traffic; and to John E. Anderson, Bark River, defective headlights.

Pearl Bailey, 46, Is Hospitalized From Overwork

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Pearl Bailey, famed alike for her casual comedy and her husky blues voice, is in Mount Sinai Hospital suffering from "heart strain as a result of overwork," says her doctor.

The physician said the 46-year-old singer is undergoing tests in the hospital's intensive care unit. He said her condition is good and she probably will be transferred to a regular hospital room.

Miss Bailey will remain in the hospital for about 10 days, the doctor said, adding that she'll have to take it easy for some time.

The singer, who recently completed a night club engagement in Las Vegas, entered the hospital Tuesday night.

For several years Miss Bailey has been a regular star on the swank supper club circuit from New York to the West Coast, with an occasional television guest shot.

Education Gets 52 Per Cent

LANSING (AP) — Education, which always receives the lion's share of the general fund budget, would take a 52 per cent bite of the pie under Gov. George Romney's proposed 1965 - 66 budget.

The proposed $363.6 million appropriation marks the first time education has taken more than half the general fund budget, Romney said.

He called it, "a most significant forward thrust" for education.

Of this, the budget shows, $178.9 million goes into the state school aid fund — compared with the $244.1 million which State School Supt. Lynn Bartlett termed necessary to meet state needs.

Automatic cost increases for education — due mainly to increased student enrollment at all levels — come to $45 million above the current spending level of $155.1 million.

Higher education jumps by $29.7 million — for a total of $168.6 million next year as compared for the $138.9 million appropriated in the current year.

An estimated college enrollment of well over 2 million, are pushing state expenditures in both areas to new highs.

New Highs Hit By Ford Sales

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. reported Tuesday its sales and profits hit new highs in 1964.

Ford thus became the second of the major auto makers to report business was great last year. General Motors Corp. announced last Thursday its 1964 business hit a new high.

Chrysler Corp., third member of the automotive Big Three, is scheduled to release its financial statement on Feb. 11.

Henry Ford II, board chairman, said there were two big factors in Ford's economic picture in 1964—one of them adverse.

That was a series of fourth quarter local strikes by members of the United Auto Workers which Ford said cost the company about 130,000 cars and trucks from its calendar 1964 production schedules.

He estimated that the company's net income for the year was reduced about 10 per cent because of the strikes.

The bright spot in Ford's future as of 1964 was the cut in income taxes. For calendar 1964, the company paid some $482 million in U. S. and foreign income taxes compared with $529.7 million in 1963.

Ford taxes before profits dropped to about $992 million last year, compared with $1,026 billion the year before. The easier tax rates made the tax bit less burdensome.

Racket Bared In Passports

CHICAGO (AP) — A former Army private has been charged with delivering 15 United States passports to Soviet agents in East Berlin.

Paul Carl Meyer, 25, was arrested Tuesday by federal marshals in the $95-a-month apartment he and his wife Yolanda had rented Monday.

A federal grand jury indictment charged him with four counts of violating the federal passport law.

If convicted, Meyer could be imprisoned a maximum of 20 years and fined $8,000. Meyer, employed by a news distributing company, was jailed on $2,500 bond. No date was set for his arraignment.

U.S. Atty. Edward V. Hanrahan said that Meyer induced 15 persons into securing the passports from the State Department's Chicago office in November 1962.

Hanrahan said the tall, mustachioed Meyer talked the 15 into joining a prospecting venture in South America. They obtained passports which Meyer convinced them would be safer in his possession, Hanrahan said. Then, Hanrahan added, Meyer turned the passports over to Russians in East Berlin in February 1963.

Eskymos Down Gladstone Quint

Sivertsen, Nyquist Star In Late Stages

By RAY CRANDALL
(Press Sports Editor)

GLADSTONE—Veteran Dick Sivertsen and rookie Dave Nyquist used savvy and size to pace Escanaba to an 82-76 basketball victory over Gladstone in a Great Lakes Conference battle here Tuesday night.

The triumph was Escanaba's second in a row and fourth of the season. After losing their first five starts, the Eskymos have won four of their last seven.

The setback snapped a three game victory string for Coach Bill Wood's Braves and was their eighth defeat against four victories for the season.

Sivertsen, a 5 foot 11 inch senior guard, held the Eskymos together when Gladstone threatened to wipe out an eight point deficit in the third quarter of action. The quick-handed veteran broke up numerous Gladstone plays and tossed in 10 points in the third quarter to keep Escanaba ahead, 57-54, entering the final frame.

Nyquist, 6 foot 5 inch sophomore who packs 210 pounds on his towering structure, turned in an inspired performance in the final four minutes of the contest. He scored four field goals and four clutch free throws in that stretch to account for 12 of Escanaba's last 16 points.

The Braves had battled back from their three point deficit entering the final period to take a one point lead, 67-66, before disastesr struck in the form of a fifth personal foul on Ricky Ebbesen. With their big gun sidelined, the Braves were outscored 14-2 in the next three minutes and had no chance for a comback. The Braves scored five late consolation points by reserves after the Eskymos were out of reach.

Ebbesen and Bruce Ellison were bright spots in the Gladstone perfomrance in spite of the defeat. Ebbesen rang the bell with seven field goals and four free throws for 18 points and Ellison reached his career scoring peak with 21. Bruce Hawkinson and Mike Gobert also reached double figures with a dozen points apiece. Ebbesen was a demon on the boards with 12 rebounds.

The Braves also lost Gary Englund on personals in the third period.

Sivertsen paced both teams in scoring with 23 points while Nyquist finished with 14. Guard Jerry Hanson, hampered by a knee operation early in the season, came off the bench to contribute 16 points as Coach Harold Johnson got a balanced output from eight Eskymos who saw action.

Escanaba trailed only briefly in the first quarter which ended 19-15 and shook off a Gladstone surge in the second period to lead 40-32 at halftime.

The Eskymos had a big edge from the field, 34 goals to 26, but came up with only 14 free throws off 22 Gladstone fouls. They missed 13 chances from the foul line, many of them on the first of 1-and-1 situations.

The Braves, noted for their free throw accuracy, failed to take advantage of their opportunity form the charity line. They stepped up 43 times and came away with only 24 points.

In the preliminary game the Eskymo jayvees won 71-41 in a Great Lakes Conference junior varsity district tourney game. Escanaba will face Stephenson for the right to advance to the jayvee tourney quarterfinals at Munising.

Escanaba also won an afternoon freshman game, 55-44.

Prep Teams Get Sites Mixed Up

SEAFORD, Del. (AP) — A day late and both somewhat embarrassed, the Middletown and Seaford high school basketball teams finally meet here tonight.

The game was scheduled for Tuesday, but because of a scheduling error, Middletown's team traveled to Seaford and — you guessed it — Seaford showed up at Middletown.

The towns are about 60 miles apart.

Syracuse Back In Spotlight As Bing Stars

By The Associated Press

Syracuse, regarded as the flop of the college basketball season only a few weeks ago, is on the way back.

The Orange were regarded as a national power in pre-season calculations, but six straight defeats to Penn State, Cornell, Kentucky, Eastern Kentucky, Louisville and Princeton after an opening season victory over American U. revised estimates.

The picture is different today with the Orange on the rebound. They won their fifth straight Tuesday night with an 83-76 conquest of Niagara as Dave Bing registered his career high of 37 points.

The victory upped Syracuse's record to 7-8 and the Orangemen are aiming to sweep their remaining games against Manhattan, Georgetown, West Virginia, Colgate, Penn State, Canisius, St. John's and Niagara.

Davidson's Wildacts, fifth-ranked in The Associated Press poll, extended their winning streak to 16 by defeating Virginia Military 84-78 and Minnesota edged Northwestern 70-66 to tie Iowa for second place in the Big Ten Conference.

In other games, Miami of Florida whipped Miami of Ohio, 110-85, in what wags called the Parentheses Bowl at Miami, Fla.

Bing handed out four assists and grabbed 17 rebounds, in addition to his 37 points for Syracuse's home-court triumph. Davidson, now 17-1, got its usual stiff opposition from VMI on the Keydets' home court at Lexington, Va. The Keydets stayed close until Charlie Marcon twice converted both ends of one-and-one free-throw situations to put Davidson ahead 82-74.

Minnesota blew a 10-point lead in the second half, but rallied to beat Northwestern at Minneapolis. Archie Clark's free throw broke a 64-64 tie and two more free throws by Dennis Dvoracek with 27 seconds left sewed it up for the Gophers.

Rick Barry, the nation's leading scorer, was outscored by Charley Coles for Miami of Ohio, 41 points to 29, but the Miami, Fla., star grabbed 19 rebounds to help the Hurricanes hand the Redskins their second straight defeat. Barry's total put him over 2,000 points for his career.

Redskins Scalp Tigers To Keep Big Seven Lead

HERMANSVILLE — The Redskins of Hermansville continued on the Big Seven warpath Tuesday night, scalping arch rival Powers-Spalding 92-76 before a packed house at the Community Center gym.

For Coach Don Hill's cagers, the victory was their ninth straight against Big Seven Competition this season. It was also their 13th in 14 starts overall and marked the third time they downed the Tigers this season, including the Holiday tournament.

Once again it was Ron Povolo who led the rampaging Redskins. The 5 foot 9 inch sharpshooter peppered the nets with 16 field goals and 11 free throws in an outstanding display of the accuracy that has made him the leading point producer in Upper Peninsula basketball ranks this season.

The scrappy Tigers hustled through the game to extend the Redskins until midway in the fourth quarter. At that stage Coach Tom Lequia lost the services of 6 foot 3 inch Mark Riedy and the Tigers were unable to stay with the Redskins. Riedy had given the Tigers a great rebounding game and added 18 points in the scoring department. Mike Nelson matched Riedy with 18 points and Dave Smith tossed in 19.

Hermansville had a three point edge at the end of the first quarter and the same margin at halftime, 41-38. The Redskins began pulling away in the third quarter and won with a scoring jolt late in the fourth. Povolo fired in 15 points, half of Hermansville's production, in the final frame.

Harry Gordon and Roger LaCoursier each chipped in 16 points for the Redskins who scored on 36 of 81 field goals and 20 of 25 free throws. The Tigers were down by only two field goals, 36-34, but added only 8 of 19 from the line.

Powers-Spalding won the jayvee game, 66-58.

Polar Bears Clip Cooks

GRAND MARAIS — As Phil Hartman goes, apparently so go the Cooks Clippers.

Tuesday night Hartman went to the bench with five personal fouls in the third quarter and Coach Norm Jahn's Cooks team went down to a 69-68 defeat at the hands of the Polar Bears.

Cooks had a 10 point lead when Hartman fouled out, but the Clippers couldn't hold it. Brother Neil picked up the scoring slack with 29 points and Bruce Swagart added 12 to Phil's 14, but it wasn't enough. It was the first time the 5 foot 8 inch junior scoring star had fouled out of a game this season.

Art Miller, a 5 foot 6 inch sophomore, was moved up from the jayvees and contributed four points against the Polar Bears.

Gilmer Selects Two Lion Aides

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Lions Head Coach Harry Gilmer was a busy man Tuesday.

First, he named two more assistant coaches —Carl Taseff and Ray Renfro.

Later, Lions owner William Clay Ford announced that linebacker Joe Schmidt had signed a two-year contract and would undergo surgery on his twice dislocated shoulder next week.

The latter announcement ended all speculation that Schmidt, a 12-year veteran, would retire or might possibly be hired as a player-coach.

Taseff, 36, will be in charge of the Detroit defense. He is a former defensive halfback with the Baltimore Colts and was with the Boston Patriots of the American Football League last season.

Renfro, 34, a brilliant pass receiver with the Cleveland Browns, will coach Lion receivers.

GLADSTONE

School System Costs Increase

Operating costs of the Gladstone Public Schools are running "slightly ahead" of budget appropriations, Supt. of Schools Wallace Cameron told the Board of Education at its regular meeting Monday.

Cameron said the extra spending had been anticipated due to increased costs of salaries and operation of the new building.

Total budget for the Gladstone school system is $394,742.

"We may have to draw on our reserve funds to make up the problem at the end of the year," Cameron said, "but so far there has been no deficit spending."

Cameron said that because of the way state aid and local tax revenue is received the school system normally "carries over" some money from one year to the next to avoid expensive borrowing to meet expenses.

He said that last year about $40,000 was "carried over" to the 1964-65 budget as a reserve. This year, Cameron said, the added costs would probably whittle the reserve fund to about $30,000.

In other business the Board of Education approved a $230 contract with Howard and Smith Co. for maintenance of the language laboratory and agreed to abide with a Federal provision that there will be no discrimination as to race, color or creed in the administration of National Defense Education funds which may be received.

The Board also made arrangements to begin a study of the drop-out situation. The Board felt that while the problem is not critical in Gladstone, a study would be helpful in future discussions of the problem.

First reading of policy necessary for implementing the recent school tenure act was heard and communications from Girl Scouts and the U. P. Child Guidance Clinic requesting their annual appropriations were read. Reports from the State Fire Marshall and State Sanitation Dept. were read and placed on file.

Detroit Gets Job Aid Center

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Youth Opportunity Center, staffed by 147 persons and responsible for anti-poverty programs among 282,984 young persons, will be located in Detroit.

The Motor City was named Tuesday for such a center by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz. Detroit is one of 13 cities in 10 states in which the centers will be located. Detroit's designation brought to 44 the number of cities selected under a program to prepare youth between 16 and 21 for job opportunities.

"Many of these young people came from backgrounds of poverty and lack the motivation necessary in a competitive society," Wirtz said. "These centers will provide an open door to a new world of opportunity for those most in need."

In Detroit, officials said the center will operate under a $1 million grant with 15,200 unemployed youths the target for job-getting efforts.

The centers, the Labor Department said, will emphasize helping youths obtain jobs through enrollment in a neighborhood youth corps or job corps, referral to a skilled training program or referral to community agencies for remedial education or medical help."

Tax Suggested On U.S. Tourists Who Go Abroad

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon was asked Tuesday by Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., about reports the administration is considering taxing U.S. tourists who go abroad $50 or $100.

He replied that all aspects of the U.S. balance of payments deficit are being studied but that no decision has been made on possible remedies.

The matter came up during a Senate Banking Committee hearing on an administration bill to remove the 25 per cent gold backing on Federal Reserve bank deposits. Long was seeking assurance that passage of the measure would make unnecessary any tourist tax.

Dillon said tourism is an important factor in the payments problem because it accounts for a $1.75-billion annual deficit.

2. In Memoriam

Valencic, Sr.

In loving memory of our dear husband, father, grandfather and brother, Andrew Valencic Sr., who died one year ago today, Feb. 3, 1964.

You bade no one a last farewell,
You said goodby to none.
Your loving heart had ceased to beat,
Before we knew it, you were gone.
More and more each day we miss you,
Friends may think our wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow,
That lies within our hearts concealed.

Gas Proposals Up Before FPC

WASHINGTON (AP)—Another chapter in a fight over extension of natural gas service to the Upper Peninsula of Michigan opened Tuesday at a Federal Power Commission hearing.

In an opening statement Hugh B. Anderson, speaking for the Michigan Public Service Commission, said that body believes the federal commission should authorize:

1. Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. to serve the Iron Mountain, Iron River and Escanaba areas; and

2. Northern Natural Gas Co. to serve the Ironwood, Houghton - Hancock, Laurium - Lake Linden, Marquette and L'Anse areas.

Upper Peninsula communities have been trying for years to get natural gas.

After statements by attorneys for the two companies and others in the case, cross-examination was started of Hugh C. Daley, executive vice president of Michigan Consolidated. His direct testimony was filed in writing.

Northern Natural seeks authority for a $35.7 million project to deliver 69.8 million cubic feet of gas a day by the third year to 26 communities and 7 industrial customers.

Michigan Consolidated and an affiliate, Michigan - Wisconsin Pipeline Co., propose a joint $15.8 million project to serve 36 communities and one iron ore plant. Michigan-Wisconsin would supply gas to Consolidated.

Northern proposes to extend its mainline 270 miles from Duluth, Minn., across northern Wisconsin into the Upper Peninsula, building 224 miles of branch lines.

Michigan-Wisconsin seeks authority to extend its main line five miles from Marinette, Wis., to Menominee, Mich.

Arthur Seder, attorney for Consolidated, said the company hopes to start construction in the spring and supply gas to the area by fall.

G. H. Bell of Lake Superior District Power Co., Ashland, Wis., which has franchises to supply gas to several communities, supported Northern's proposal.

The hearing, which will be devoted to technical cross-examination of testimony filed in writing, is being conducted by examiner Francis L. Hall.

Cleopatra's Needle, an ancient obelisk in New York's Central Park, is said to be the oldest man-made object in the United States.

QUEEN'S REIN — Edy Williams, 22, of Van Nuys, Calif., is practically a professional horsewoman. She was named Rodeo Queen for the first annual Rose Bowl Rodeo in the Pasadena stadium.

Toss-Aways Are Litter Problem

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Tourist Council Tuesday urged use of returnable rather than throw-away beverage containers to help keep Michigan beautiful. A council resolution condemned the indiscriminate disposal of containers as contributing to the litter problem and posing a hazard to health.

Negro Reinstated

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A Negro clerical worker dismissed last December from his job in the city treasurer's office before his six - month probationary period expired has been reinstated, according to City Manager George Bean. Employe Clarence Brown claimed discrimination and filed a letter of protest with the Civil Service Board, demanding a hearing. Bean said he found errors in handling of Brown's case.

Park Manager

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — Henry Zurburg has taken up residence here as new manager of Grand Haven State Park. Former manager of Wilson State Park in eastern Michigan, he succeeds Howard E. Gillmore, who has been transferred to manager of Island Lake State Park at Brighton.

Soil Saving Gains Told

The federal program of soil conservation that is bringing land use benefits to an increasing number of land owners in Delta and other counties was discussed at the Escanaba Rotary Club meting Tuesday noon at the House of Ludington.

Irwin TenHaken, soil conservationist for the Delta County district, illustrated his explanation of the program with colored slides of actual projects in this area.

Ten years ago the program was limited pretty much to farmers, he said. Now it includes everyone (farmer and non-farmer) with a soil or water problem they would like to solve.

TenHaken described and pictured the projects the cooperators have consulted about: Contour plowing and planting to control erosion, planting of windbreaks to halt wind erosion of the soil, projects involving young people in educational experiences such as tree planting, and the construction of ponds for watering cattle, for recreational use and wildlife habitat.

The benefits of effective soil and water conservation practices are many and important to Club program chairman. Robert Haack, club president, conducted the meeting and welcomed a new member, Orville Peterson, assistant superintendent, Area Public Schools.

the future of the nation, he pointed out.

The speaker was introduced by Sherwood Trotter, Rotary

Levy Approved

COLOMA (AP) — Voters of the Coloma School district have approved a levy of six extra mills for one year to cover operating costs with the new levy to replace one of five mills expiring next December.

Memorial Dinner

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, addresses the Floyd H. Skinner Memorial Dinner here Feb. 16. The event is sponsored by the NAACP Grand Rapids chapter to honor the late attorney and chapter president for outstanding service in the civil rights cause.
